

A Desperate Gang

Armed robbers "held up" the branch of the National Bank of Langtange, Transvaal, a few months ago and abstracted about $6,000 from the till. Since then three men have been sentenced to ten years' hard labor for their share in the robbery.

The police have now discovered the man who planned the whole affair. His name is Walter Kirby, and he is also to be accommodated in gaol for a ten years' term. His sentence closes the history of one of the most famous gangs of criminals the Transvaal has known. The gang was formed originally by Percy John Collingwood, who may be described as the "Mortuary" of South Africa. Collingwood was a gentleman by birth, and received a thorough training as an engineer after he left school.

His master mind gathered around him on the Rand a gang of dangerous criminals, white and colored, who place implicit trust in his leadership. He carried out a time successfully planned by him. Collingwood pitted his brains against those of the entire detective force, and for a time he more than held his own.

It was part of his method to keep in close touch with the police, and he was a frequent visitor at the police offices, whether he went on the most flimsy pretext. At last the acting chief of the Criminal Investigation Department, Mr. Mavrogordis, discovered the identity of his clever opponent, and after many attempts, brought home to him a serious crime, which Collingwood was sentenced at Pretoria in January, 1907, to twelve years' imprisonment with hard labor, for culpable homicide.

The crime was committed in the course of a robbery which he had planned, when he found it necessary to get rid of a native "tool" who knew too much. After Collingwood's removal, Kirby appears to have assumed command of the operations of the gang, but evidently he did not mean to get the implicit trust of his followers.

Kirby's downfall, following the capture and sentence of these three, is the last act in the operations of a gang of criminals who have been a menace to the public safety for years.

SAD SUICIDE AT MANITOBA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Winnipeg, March 8.—The body of young J. S. McIntosh, an agricultural college student, who mysteriously disappeared on Wednesday, was found yesterday in an unoccupied room on the top floor of the college, by brother students, who went into the room by accident. The corpse was lying partially in an old clothes closet and death had apparently resulted many hours previous. He suicided by cutting his throat with a razor. The tragedy is the sad sequel to boyish college prank, in which mild hazing was indulged in. For his share, McIntosh was suspended, though he did not take the affair very seriously; he was clever, industrious, with no bad habits and in fairly good financial condition, with tuition for general courses and boarding fees paid up to the end of March. He came from Derbyshire, England, in 1906.

PRINCE RUPTER ON MARKET IN SEPTEMBER.

Vancouver, March 8.—Wm. Walcott, who conducted the negotiations between the G.T.P. and the British Columbia government, left for the east Sunday. He says the work on railway construction in the north will commence by May first, but on account of the preliminary to be gone through the sale of lots in the town site will not commence till September. The town must be incorporated and many streets will be roughed out before the sale occurs.

Calgary Will Likely Have Street Railway

Calgary, March 7.—It appears that before long, if the council finally decides whether to accept offers for the construction of a street railway in Calgary, properly safeguarded, of course, in the interests of the city, there will at least be three companies offering to put the system in.

Some time ago The Herald printed an item shadowing rumor that Messrs. Deiseker and Davidson were prepared to make an offer to the city to put in a street railway system. These reports have gathered strength, and now it is pretty sure that these gentlemen are ready to make their proposition public to the city council and the ratepayers when the time is ripe.

As is already known, Messrs. Budd and Alexander are also waiting to bid on such a proposition, and can do so with two-weeks' notice. And there is still another company of men who believe that the proposition of installing a street railway system in the city of Calgary and the outlying district is a good one. This other company is composed of Belgian gentlemen, and it is said that Dr. Lafferty is representing them, ready at the proper time to make his proposition also.

BRITISH PREMIER'S RESIGNATION EXPECTED SOON.

London, March 8.—While Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's health is reported as slightly improved, it is generally believed he will retire in May or June. His heart action is still very feeble and it is considered probable his physicians will advise a long stay in the Riviera or some other mild climate for the recuperation of his health. It is certain many changes in the ministry organization and the Liberal party will follow the resignation of the Premier. The Manchester "Guardian," an influential Liberal organ, asserts with substance that Herbert Asquith is a substitute for Sir Henry would be accepted conditionally and insists that there must be adequate guarantee for a fair representation in the cabinet of the summer and more decided Liberal traditions. It suggests the promotion of David Lloyd George, Lewis Harcourt, Thomas Shaw and some younger men, Winston Churchill presumably among them. There are rumors among the government side that John Morley, who took the India office, under protest, because Asquith insisted on having the treasury, will be chancellor of the exchequer when the cabinet is reorganized. This will interfere with Lloyd George's promotion.

TOLDO SUFFERS FROM FLOOD.

Toledo, O., March 7.—The Maumee river has become a raging torrent and this afternoon ice caught a steel boat and jammed it into the bridge connecting the two sections of this city, moving the bridge out of position and stopping all traffic.

Streets and cellars in streets near the river are flooded and the water is now rising.

A span has gone out of the bridge across the Maumee as a result of the jam. The men on the big steel boat were saved after a terrific struggle.

ESSANE WOMAN'S CRIME.

Rapid City, S. D., March 8.—While under the influence of liquor and during a quarrel over a trivial affair, Mrs. Charles Barbour, shot her seven-year-old adopted daughter, Elsie Adams, in the head, the girl dying two hours later without regaining consciousness. No one witnessed the tragedy. Mrs. Barbour was taken to jail, where she gives indications of becoming a raving maniac and does not yet seem to realize the crime.

Big Lumber Corporation

Winnipeg, March 7.—Application has been made to the provincial government for a charter for the Union Lumber company, limited, with a capital stock of $10,000,000, $5,000,000 of which is to be preferred stock and $5,000,000 common stock. The incorporators are S. H. Bowman, president of the Bowman Lumber company; G. F. Piper, of Piper-Johnston and Case company; F. A. Kenaston, president of Minneapolis Threshing Machine company; J. E. C. Warner, president of the Midland Lumber Oil company; and Walter D. Douglas, of the American Cereal company of Chicago, all residents of Minneapolis, Minn.; O. A. Robertson, president and P. S. Lynch, secretary of the Red Deer and Elk Lumber company, and F. C. Barrow, banker, all of St. Paul, Minn.; J. Stanley Hough, of the firm of Hough, Campbell and Ferguson, barristers, and G. F. Galt, of the well-known firm of G. F. and J. Galt, of Winnipeg.

They are all men largely interested already in various Canadian industries, and have materially aided in Western Canadian development, and they are men who believe in Western Canada and its future and show their faith by their work.

At the office of the Red Deer Lumber company it was learned that the new company will take over the properties of the Red Deer Lumber company, Elk Lumber company, Sunset Timber and Lumber company, Bow-Columbia Lumber company, and Bow-Lumber Lumber company, which includes in the aggregate seven complete plants and more than 3,000,000,000 feet of standing timber.

Indians Disgusted With Potlach

Vancouver, March 8.—The steamer Venture is in from the north, with salmon and lumber from the north of Victoria. She brought news of the great potlach at Alert Bay, and a few Indians go broke gambling and trading came down.

The great regret is that no girls are to be sold at this year's potlach and very few blankets and horses are to be offered either as present or purchase while the activity of the police in the neighborhood in preventing the sale of Indian girls at least has made the Indians sour.

This will be the first time in years that a potlach has been held without a number of young girls being disposed of by auction.

The price of Indian girls disposed of at auction varies from a couple of hundred dollars to a thousand dollars.

Lively Sitting of B.C. Legislature

Victoria, B. C., March 8.—After seven weeks' session the house prorogued Saturday. B. C. bills were passed, the most important being the immigration act, G.T.P. Bill making agreement with the transcontinental (Canadian) facilities and Prince Rupert and a bill for the establishment of the B. C. University. The final session was marked by another disgraceful wrangle over the G.T.P. agreement. The Kaia Island deal of three years ago which was introduced into the discussion and Hawthornwaite, socialist leader, declared the "Liberal" had swallowed themselves. John Oliver, Liberal, declared Hawthornwaite had deliberately argued from false premises. The latter again bellowed up, hurled back another and still another accusation to the effect that the Liberal had deliberately misrepresented the socialist position in the Kaia Island deal, during the last election. The Liberal leader demanded the withdrawal of the statements. "Not until Oliver withdraws his," replied Hawthornwaite. Mr. Ross, who was chairman in committee, requested the withdrawal but Hawthornwaite refused. "Twice with in the past week has the member for Nanaimo refused to obey the ruling of the chair," said the Liberal leader and "if the dignity of debate in this assembly will take over the should be stopped." Premier McCreed also vainly urged both members to explain and withdraw the statements. "Not till Oliver," replied Hawthornwaite, "the house knows his nature." "Order! Order!" came from both sides of the house. "I am not going to be bullied and howled down," thundered back the member for Nanaimo. The House proceeded. "The Liberals are blaming the Premier for not taking a stronger stand."

RAILWAY BILLS BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Ottawa, Mar. 6.—The Co-operative bill was put through the committee unopposed and given its third reading. In respect to Dr. McIntyre's bill to incorporate Saskatoon, Pasqua, Peace River and Dawson Railway, Hon. Graham proposed an amendment to confine the powers to the operation, hotels and parks. The bill was held for further consideration. Sloan's bill to incorporate the Vancouver Island & Eastern Railway Co. was given its third reading.

GERMANY'S FIRST MAMMOTH WARSHIP.

Wilhelmshaven, Mar. 8.—Germany's first mammoth warship was successfully launched yesterday and christened "Nassau" by the Grand Duchess of Baden. Emperor William and a brilliant assemblage was present. The "Nassau's" displacement is seventeen thousand nine hundred and sixty tons, built entirely of hardened steel.

EASTERN HOCKEY.

Montreal, March 8.—The Shamrocks beat Quebec 7 to 6 Saturday in the closing game of the eastern hockey league.

Final standing: Wanderers won 8; 2nd 2; Ottawa won 7; lost 3; Shamrocks won 5; lost 5; Quebec won 5; lost 5; Victoria won 4; lost 6.

WIRELESS STATION FOR PRINCE RUPTER.

Vancouver, B. C., March 8.—The Dominion government is arranging for a wireless or cable telegraph service between Prince Rupert and Queen Charlotte Island and the various larger islands.

School Girl's White-wash All Corners

The hockey match on Saturday afternoon between the school girls and girls who have stopped school (some for quite a while), resulted in a victory for the former, 3 to 0. Thus the school girls very favorably impressed upon their lady friends that they could track them something even if they had quit school, and that to play hockey. The game itself was a fair ringer. At no time was the life and property of the players secure, although in the end the ice and fence were the worst sufferers. The officials with fear and trembling, especially the edge of play, awarded their decisions in favor of the losing team. But undoubtedly there were secret reasons for this deciding. The judge of play was very liberal in distributing penalties. Contrary to the nature of the fair sex there was no quarrelling, and with one exception the penalties were awarded singly. The teams lined up as follows:

School Girls. All Corners.
goal Miss A. Beaton
point Miss A. Beaton
Jean Skinner cover Miss Lavell
Marjorie Hotson rover Miss Wilson
Agnes Wilson Miss Martin
Helen Martin centre Miss Beaton
Ida Lynn right Miss Burwash
Reiser—R. H. Dobson; Judge of play, C. Martin.

It would be impossible for any reporter to describe the match accurately. All the goal were scored the first half, Ida Lynn scoring the first and Agnes Wilson a few minutes before the half time bell rang scored the third and last goal. The school girls on the forward line played combination and had many shots on goal, and had it not been for the expert work of Miss Beaton, in goal, would have scored much oftener. Edmonton is looking for a goalkeeper to play with them against Portage tonight. We would recommend Miss Beaton. The other goal-keeper had but one call, which she stopped in professional style, although she had no goal pads which would stop cannon balls. Perhaps these pads had charms which kept the puck from the net. In the second half the losers played a much more strenuous game, but were unable to find the nets. For the school girls Agnes Wilson, Ida Lynn, and Helen Martin, were the stars. The defence and goal keeper had no particular chance to shine. All the members of the losing team shone, or rather, did not shine when it came to scoring.

Vancouver, March 9.—A man named William Gibbs was fatally burned this morning while attempting to light a fire with coal oil.

CONVICTS KILL AND WOUND JAILERS.

(Special To The Chronicle).

St. Paul, March 9.—As a result of a dash for freedom by three convicts yesterday Warden Frank Connelly of the State Penitentiary was dangerously wounded and his chief assistant, Robinson, was killed. The latter's throat was gashed and he was stabbed several times. Two of the convicts were wounded.

Advertising Canada

At the great Franco-British exhibition to open at Shepards Bush, London, England, on May 1, which is said to be the greatest ever held in the world, the Canadian government has reserved for its exhibits the enormous space of 121,000 square feet, the largest on the grounds and which is probably the largest space acquired for a similar purpose by any other government in the world. It is certainly the largest ever taken by the Canadian government. At the present time a huge pavilion is being erected and the exhibit will undoubtedly be the finest architectural exhibit on the grounds. Western grains will predominate and these will be arranged so artistically and in such quantity as to attract attention on the instant.

It is also learned that both the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways will exhibit in separate buildings, each having a floor space of 4,000 square feet.

Great interest has been aroused throughout France and Great Britain in the exhibition and it is estimated there will be ten million paid admissions between May and November, when it will close.

For the Edinburgh exhibition, which will also be open from May to November, 44,000 square feet of space has been reserved, and it is probable that the pavilion used at the Dublin exhibition will be taken down and used at Edinburgh.

It is expected that the attendance at the great Scottish fair will be from sixty to seventy-five thousand people a day.

The Lamb Medal

The Rev. Mr. George has received a touching letter from Miss Margaret Lamb with regard to the medal which the King has conferred upon her in recognition of her brother George's bravery. In the letter which Mr. George has been good enough to show us occurs the passage: "I am sure the people in Strathcona will be proud of George's deed and rejoice to think one in their midst has brought honor on them." We trust that Strathcona will support the movement now on foot to erect a memorial. Miss Lamb encloses in her letter a cutting from the Newcastle paper, which has already appeared in these columns.

JAPAN PREPARING.

(Special To The Chronicle).

Tokio, March 9.—Japan is undoubtedly preparing for eventualities in connection with her dispute with China. Great activity is noticeable among her battalions, and at the naval base of Sasebo coaling and provisioning operations are being rushed. A frigate at Nigata, a town situated on the west coast, on Saturday destroyed fifteen hundred houses, and many lives were lost.

ALFONSO IS NOT AFRAID.

(Special To The Chronicle).

Madrid, March 9.—Despite the protestations of the Queen and the ministers of the Cabinet, the King has declared his intention of fulfilling his promise to visit Barcelona. It is reported that the Anarchists whose headquarters are in Geneva have decided upon the King's death and that he should be assassinated during this visit, but the Portuguese authorities are confident that there is little danger.

CURRENT COMMENT

That newspapers distort facts and slander of mind, the editorial writer of the Bulletin, in its August 1st issue, may mention that $25,000 a year is a large sum, and that the government which grants this little sum to its pet paper wants something more than pious opinions for its money. The result is that whether he likes it or not the editorial purveyor of the Grit organ has to be unscrupulously unfair and maliciously mischievous. It would be absurd to attempt to follow the whole trail of platitudes and perjuries which runs through Saturday's summary of The Work of the Legislature. A few gems will convey an idea of the whole chapter of deception. It is not necessary nor do we think it would be in keeping with facts were we to impugn everything which the Legislature have done as had "governments are like human beings there is some good in the worst." And we do not suggest that the Alberta Government is by any means the worst possible. Some of the legislation which they handled could not have been worse managed had a considerable quantity of the work done naturally to do some benefit to someone. That the mass of new legislation has been small we have no complaint against. We are no believers in rushed legislation, indeed, we would have been pleased had several measures received more consideration, were it not for the fact that the arrogant attitude of certain of the ministers, the flock like "follow my leader" of the party and the lack of numbers in the Opposition made debate "easy" for the purpose of dictionary exercise, useless. There were several questions, however, from which the government emerged far from creditably. We do not at present refer to the four matters which have not, no one mind, yet been explained away, viz: The Court House, deal, the Bulletin subsidy, the Cushing contracts and the pet press freedom. These are matters which most constantly kept before the electorate. What we desire to draw attention to, however, is the claim for credit, which the Bulletin advances for certain measures. We refer chiefly to the Compensation Act. Our contemporary is evidently at its wits end to deceive the working man into believing in this act. The attempt will fail hopelessly. The act might have been a creditable one, in the state of general opinion on the relationship of employers and employed, twenty years ago. With the present universally accepted interpretation of these relationships it is a farce, a delusion and a snare, fortunately a snare that will catch no one. Let us take the Bulletin's falsehoods one by one and nail them to the counter.

"Toward the Compensation Act the nominal leader did indeed deliver a speech expressing his dissatisfaction, but omitting his reasons and benefit of suggestions for amendment, while a movement was made apparently under his auspices or with his sanction to arouse the hostility of the organized workers against both the measure and the Government."

"Now Mr. Robertson did deliver a speech, but he gave at length and in detail, the grounds of his objections. Even the Bulletin's own reports, distorted and grossly partisan as they are, convict the Bulletin's editorial writer of falsehood. Among other points which Mr. Robertson referred to were the monstrous 40-cent clause, the promise reduced to 20 cents, the smallness of compensation, since increased, the introduction of the Attorney-General as an adjuster of differences and the endless opportunities for appeal. Mr. Robertson's denunciation was directed against the narrowness of the measure and the absolute clogging of its usefulness by vexatious appeals. It was only natural that the intelligent mind of organized labor should be at one with Mr. Robertson in his condemnation of this farcical measure masquerading under the name of a Compensation Act and had not only betrayed them in presenting a Compensation Act, which was no compensation act in the reasonable acceptance of the title, but had in addition insulted them by asking that they should believe it was one. In the address from the Throne at the protogation in adhering to the act the government draughtsman takes credit to the government for having protected the farmers altogether, and other employers from vexatious litigation. Why this curtailing of facts. Why this governing not openly declare, that they had introduced an act, which, while being called a Compensation Act, would give practically every case, immunity from liability. But let us attempt to follow the Bulletin down its long lane of falsehood. "On the eight hour law it was not deemed expedient to wage even this kind of warfare. Both measures stand therefore as practical and tangible proof of the Government's desire to conserve the interests of the industrial worker, and of the readiness of the Legislature to sanction any reasonable means for doing so. Both stand also as reminders of what the Opposition might have proposed, but did not propose or show any inclination to propose, and one as a monument to their intellectual effort to stampede organized labor into antagonism to the men who were legislating on behalf of the laborers."

Both measures stand, therefore, etc. The Compensation Act will we believe, make this government, or at all events the Ministers, primarily responsible. Mr. Cross and Mr. Cushing, stink in the nostrils of the industrial worker in all time coming. When a case of compensation, not specially excluded by the act has arisen, and a long course of appeals has ended by the workman being frozen out, through an inability to fight down yet another appeal, which an insurance corporation is fighting with what it calls its litigation fund, then will the workmen see Messrs. Cross and Cushing in their true light, as the sworn guardians of capital, the sworn foes of labor. Mr. Cross did more to ruin his political reputation by this piece of legal twisting than a column of inspired articles or hours of platform excuses can remedy. As for Mr. Cushing, he is a large employer of labor and probably only considered he was doing his duty to his class. How that forty-five clause must have suited his leading friends!

So much for what the government failed to do. Let us look at the Bulletin's scurrilous comments on what it says the Opposition tried to do.

"The Ministers elected by the people to manage their affairs, Mr. Robertson considered to be imprudent conditions of the power to nominate a majority of the University Senators. The selection of this body he would have transferred absolutely to the University graduates of the Province, a class of glib citizens, holding no public office, asking no public franchise, having no public responsibility and in no way amenable to the wishes of the public."

What Mr. Robertson declared was what every educated man in the province knows at the bottom of his heart to be a necessity, that education, especially higher education, should be divorced from politics. The civil service has become a political machine every appointment that is made goes by political favor. That the government should desire to tie the University of the Province to the charter of the political organizer is in our view a most reprehensible move and shows that the government and the Bulletin have the highest ideas of the qualifications generally sought after in members of a University Senate. Alberta wants men of education, men of intellectual weight, in her senate, not party men, pullers. The attack on Mr. Herbert is, however, the climax. Nothing more disgraceful has ever sullied the editorial pages of a representative paper.

"The member for Rosedale tried this triumph of his titular leader by a proposal that the Province should go into the saloon business."

We leave this crowning piece of calumny to all who know the member for Rosedale. We leave it to Mr. Cross and Mr. Moore who opposed the motion. We leave it to everyone who heard Mr. Herbert's speech in the House. Let them judge if there is any mis-statement too base for this insinuator to defile clean paper with.
